Ryan Risley Elected President of International Association of Microsoft Channel Partners Washington D.C. Chapter

Reston, VA – August 20, 2012 – Ryan Risley, CTO of Brittenford Systems, was recently elected as the President of the Washington D.C. chapter of the International Association of Microsoft Channel Partners (IAMCP). Brittenford Systems is a value-added reseller (VAR) for Microsoft Dynamics GP, SL, CRM customers, and is recognized on ACCOUNTING TODAY's VAR 100 list of the top accounting and ERP technology VARs in North America.

With over 80 chapters in 40 countries, IAMCP is the voice of the Microsoft partner ecosystem around the globe and the established leader in partner-to-partner business networking. Through networking, learning, advocacy and community events, IAMCP chapters link members with each other, with Microsoft, and with information vital to their success.

"I am honored to lead the IAMCP Washington D.C. chapter and to speak for its community-building initiatives," Risley says. "IAMCP provides its members with valuable networking and educational opportunities as well as outreach to Microsoft and to legislators. The D.C. chapter is particularly well placed to inform legislators on IT issues affecting IAMCP members."

Within Brittenford, Risley leads the CIO Services Practice which partners with CEOs and CFOs in client companies to help IT divisions align with and achieve business objectives.

For more information about the IAMCP and other regional chapters, visit <http://www.iamcp-us.org/> and follow them at IAMCPDC on Twitter and find them on LinkedIn.
