Cloud Computing for Nonprofits: FREE Webinar

Reston, VA – June 20, 2012 – A webinar event entitled Cloud Computing for Nonprofits is scheduled for Thursday, July 12, 2 pm EST. The webinar will cover the benefits of cloud financials for nonprofits, along with demos of key features and best practices. The free event is sponsored by Brittenford Systems, a leading financial systems provider based in Reston, VA, and Intacct, the leading cloud financial software provider.

Panelists include nonprofit technology and business process expert, Jacqueline Tiso from JMT Consulting Group, Gordon Quick from Intacct. Featured customer speaker Jodie Thomas Mote, Treasurer and Controller of The UAB Educational Foundation, will share his real life experience moving to cloud financials.

But how do you know it's time to switch? And what should you look for in a new system? The webinar will show how nonprofits can take advantage of the cost savings, IT independence, anytime/anywhere access, and real-time reporting that cloud offers. Find out how cloud computing can dramatically improve the performance and results of your organization. The webinar will cover the following issues:

- Why thousands of nonprofits are moving their financials to the cloud
- How nonprofits are using cloud computing to provide real-time organizational visibility to management, board members and auditors, ensure proper stewardship of funds, and comply with federal reporting requirements
- Best practices in evaluating and contracting for cloud computing
